WHEAT PRICE AGAIN SOARS

Rumors of European War and Speculative Prices Send the Price Up 17 Cents Bushel

March Delivery in One Hour's Time, Touches $2.30 Mark

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, August 3.—Wheat made a steep advance in price today as a result of increased speculative buying stimulated by European war talk. In a little more than an hour an extreme upward swing of 15 cents a bushel had taken place, March delivery touching $2.30 as against $2.15 at yesterday's finish.

The market bounded upward again at the last and closed at virtually the top most point of the day with marks at $2.32 1/2, a net advance of 17 1/2 cents a bushel during today's session. December climbed to $2.30 but finished at $2.29, an almost sheer ascent of 15 1/2 cents.

Census Statistics Just Issued Show City Made Gain of 685 or 9.4 Percent in Ten Years

Figures Disappoint Many Who had Predicted as High as 9,000 and Even 10,000.

Growth Regarded as Substantial and Came Largely in the Past Two Years.

Dover has 8,101 and Ashtabula 22,082

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, Aug. 3.—Census figures given out by the Census Bureau today include Washington C. H., O., 7,962, an increase of 685, or 9.4 percent; Dover, O., 8,101, an increase of 1,480, or 22.4 percent; Ashtabula, O., 22,082, an increase of 3,816, or 20.9 percent.

While the census figures issued by the Bureau of the Census show no great gain in this city, they indicate a healthy growth, most of which has been made during the past two years. Many citizens had expected the census returns to show a population of 9,000 and some placed the mark as high as 10,000, while the more conservative believed 8,000 would be about the mark reached.

The figures are just 38 under the 8,000 mark, however, so that those estimating around 8,000 were nearly correct.

Some citizens have expressed the belief that many were not enumerated when the census takers did their work, but investigation indicates that the work in this city was equal to that in any surrounding city, and there is no marked tendency to question the figures as just announced.

The long delay in reaching the Washington C. H. population figures is explained by the fact that the work of the census will not be completed for some time to come, and that many towns even larger than Washington have not yet been reached by the corps of census workers.

All work at the newspaper plant was suspended while the pictures were being made and employees gathered about to see their boss working while they loafed.

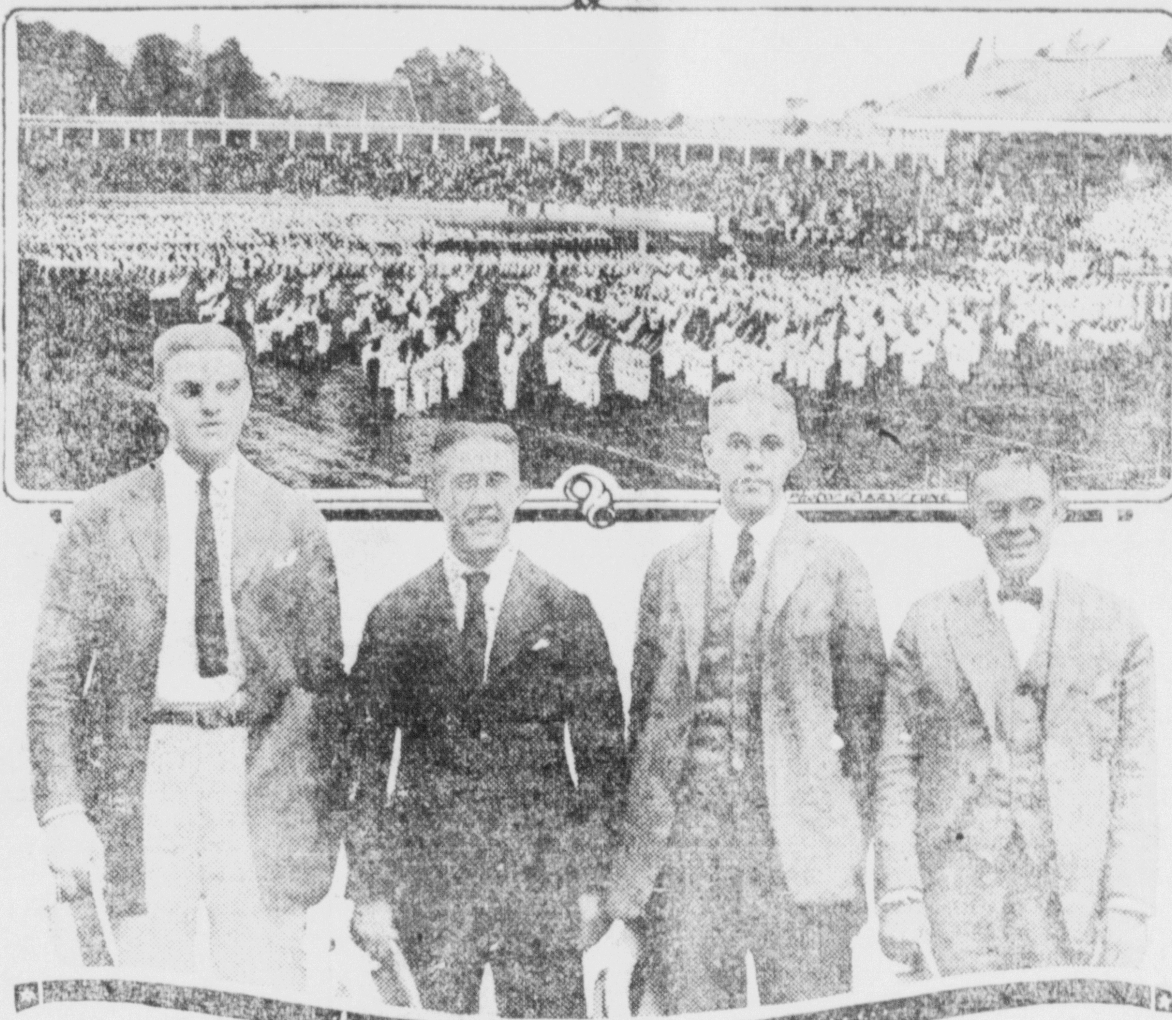

Senator Harry S. New, Indiana, was included in the picture.

Lines Before Window Today Equal to Monday's Crowd.

(By Associated Press.)

Boston, Mass., August 3.—The line of anxious note holders in the "fifty percent in ninety days" investment proposition of Charles Ponzi, who claims to have made millions by foreign exchange operations, began to form outside the offices of his securities exchange company long before daylight today, clamoring for the return of their money.

A score were on hand at 5 o'clock and at the usual opening hour of 9 o'clock, the line was growing rapidly giving every indication of the biggest crowd of creditors since Ponzi began paying back money more than a week ago.

Ponzi, in a statement, again asserted that his business was solvent, and that he was prepared to meet all demands. He estimated that up to last night he had paid out about $3,500,000 since the run began.

Government officials investigating Ponzi's business said today no criminality had yet been discovered.

No Visitors to See Governor Before Last of the week.

(By Associated Press)

Dayton, O., August 3.—State and personal affairs had precedent today before Governor Cox, following completion of arrangements for next Saturday's ceremonies to notify him formally of his democratic presidential nomination.

No visitors had engagements before the latter part of the week, and by that time the Governor hopes to have all state and personal business out of the way to devote himself to completion of the democratic campaign organization and to conferences with many democratic leaders coming for the notification.

The presidential nominee plans to spend most of next week here, cleaning up party and personal affairs prior to starting his first extensive speaking trip week after next, probably in New York and New England.

(By Associated Press)

Marion, O., August 3.—To what extent Senator Harding may deviate from the front porch campaign policy has not yet been determined so the general impression prevails among many republican leaders that there will be some speeches made by the republican presidential nominee outside Ohio before the campaign closes.

"No one in authority has said there would under no circumstances be any deviation from the front porch campaign," Senator Harry S. New, of Indiana, chairman of the speaker's bureau, stated after a conference with the candidate.

"It may well be that occasion may arise he may speak elsewhere than from his front porch, but this is for the future to determine."

Their Medicine Chest For 20 Years

IT is characteristic of folks after they pass the allotted "three score years and ten," to look back over the days that are gone and thoughtfully live them over.

I find myself, at seventy-one, frequently drifting back a quarter of a century, when I resided in the little drug store I owned at Bolivar, Mo., making and selling a vegetable compound to my friends and customers—what was then known only as Dr. Lewis' Medicine for Stomach, Liver and Bowel Complaints.

For many years while I was perfecting my formula I studied and investigated the laxatives and cathartics on the market and became convinced that their main fault was not that they did not act on the bowels, but that their action was too violent and drastic, and upset the system of the user, which was due to the fact that they were not thorough enough in their action, come simply acting on the upper small intestine, while others would act only on the lower or large intestine, and that they almost invariably produced a habit requiring augmented doses.

I believed that a preparation to produce the best effect must first tone the liver, then act on the stomach and entire alimentary system. If this was accomplished, the medicine would produce a mild, but thorough elimination of the waste without the usual sickening sensations, and make the user feel better at once.

After experimenting with hundreds of different compounds, I at last perfected the formula that is now known as Nature's Remedy, which I truly believe goes further and does more than any laxative on the market today. The thousands of letters from users have convinced me I was right, and that the user of Nature's Remedy as a family medicine, even though he may have used it for twenty-two years, never has to increase the dose.

My knowledge of medicine and the results of its use in my own family and among my friends, before I ever offered it for sale, caused me to have great faith in Nature's Remedy from the very first.

And now as I find myself nearing the age when I must bow to the inevitable and go to another life, my greatest pleasure is to sit each day and read the letters that each mail brings from people as old or older than I, who tell of having used Nature's Remedy for ten, fifteen and twenty years, and how they and their children and grandchildren have been benefited by it.

It is a comforting thought, my friends, for his own success, one has done something for his fellow man. My greatest satisfaction, my greatest happiness today, is the knowledge that tonight more than one million people will take a Nature's Remedy (No. 1) and will be better, healthier, happier people for it. I hope you will be one of them.

FORTY CHOICE HAMPSHIRE SOWS GO AT GOOD PRICES

Auction of Blooded Hampshire Sows Held at Fair Ground Nets $97.60 Per Head.

Buyers From Large Territory Take Part in Spirited Bidding and Get Choice Offering.

Forty choice Hampshire sows, making up the second offering of the Fayette County Hampshire Breeders, sold at the Fayette County Fair Grounds Monday afternoon at an average of $97.60 per head with the top sow going at $260 and the lowest going at $55.

Shortly after the noon hour a crowd composed of buyers from all over Ohio and representatives of fancy swine breeders gathered at the pens regularly used for exhibit work during the county fair and the sale started with auctioneers Col. F. H. Hulick, Atlanta, Ind., and Col. J. J. Yerian, London, in charge.

There were several women in the crowd and it was stated by the leading sale men that it was becoming a regular occurrence for women to attend their sales. Many have become producers of fine hogs.

The two leading consignments were made by the Keystone Farms and by C. G. Bitzer and Son. The Keystone consignment of ten sows, bred to the $6000 head of the herd, the National Grand Champion, brought an average of $147.50 with the top sow of the sale going to O. A. Dobbin, of Cedarville, for $260 from this allotment.

Bitzer & Son's consignment consisted of 8 sows bred to Lookout Compeer, averaged $137.50 with the second sow of the sale No. 1 going to Depew Head, of Marion, for $210.

It was remembered that Mr. Head purchased No. 1 in the February sale of Hampshire for $1000.

The sale was capably handled through the management of the Secretary-Treasurer of the Hampshire Association, Willard Bitzer, who is one of the firm of C. G. Bitzer and Son and one of the largest producers. Other officers of the Association are L. Ervin Parrett, President, a veteran Hampshire producer of Fayette county, and Charles R. McLean, another leading producer, Vice President.

It was stated by the officials of the Association following the sale that they were pleased with the prices brought by the offerings and that in almost all instances each consignment was sold for the price that represented true value. Every sow of fered was sold.

The producers and the buyers of the consignments were as follows:

Consignment of C. G. Bitzer & Son, No. 1, to Depew Head, Marion, $210; No. 2, to Levi Smith, Xenia, $200; No. 3, to George Free, Bainbridge, $147.50; No. 4, to R. J. Myers, Columbia, Tenn., $109; No. 5, H. E. Dobbins, Cedarville, $130; No. 6, A. C. Daniels, Jeffersonville, $102.50; No. 7, to George

LOCAL MAN MAKES OBSERVATIONS IN MINING DISTRICT

At a time when the coal supply is worrying the public, observations made by Lyman Wilkins, of near this city, who has just returned from a motoring trip through the coal fields of West Virginia and Pennsylvania are interesting.

Mr. Wilkins visited several of the largest mines in those two states and found an abundant supply of coal on hand but with the same condition there that has become prevalent all over the country, that of an acute car shortage.

In one place visited Mr. Wilkins saw over one half million tons of coal piled in a heap. The explanation of the great supply on hand was that there were no means of transporting it over the country because of the shortage of cars.

It was also noted that prices of living commodities were from ten to twenty percent higher than in this part of Ohio. Sugar was selling in the mining district for 36 cents per pound and meat at 70 cents. Other pound and meat at 20 percent increase. Other articles were relatively the same in price compared with prices here.

OHIO'S CHEESE INDUSTRY MENACED

Is Ohio's Swiss cheese industry menaced? It is the second in size in the United States. In Holmes, Tuscarawas, and surrounding counties are situated 100 Swiss cheese factories, which produce over three million pounds of cheese per year. With the remarkable growth of Akron and other cities of northeastern Ohio a greater supply of market milk is being demanded. With Cleveland and Youngstown drawing heavily on the territory north of Akron, the cities south of Cleveland are looking for their milk supply in counties to the south.

Coupled with the increasing demand for market milk, the cheese manufacturers face a declining price for their product. The price has been steadily advancing for six years. Last year they got from 40 to 45 cents a pound. This year they are offered but 37 cents. Buyers hold that since six months is required before Swiss cheese can be cured and marketed, after being made, and with the possibility of a decline in the prices of all food products, they are not justified in offering the prices they have previously paid.

Dairy specialists say that if the Swiss cheese makers would continue in their present business it will be necessary for them to obtain cleaner milk, specialize in a fancy grade of cheese, and thus be able to demand higher prices for their superior product.

LARGE CHECKS BUY AND MAKE CAPES FOR BEACH WEAR

Large checks are quite the thing when it comes to the new beach capes. They are used extensively both in the material and in the purchase of the new capes. Here is a new cape which is both comfortable and sporty in appearance. It covers one from head to foot and is made of tan and brown checked material. The edges are button-holed in soft brown wool and brown wool tassels and fringe form the only trimming.

FEW BUYERS FOR EMERGENCY WOODEN SHIPS

Washington, August 3.—Disposal of more than 1,500,000 tons of wooden shipping—405 vessels of various types—built as a part of the government's war time merchant marine program is one of the most difficult problems facing the shipping board. Twenty-one of the craft, aggregating 82,000 deadweight tons were offered recently, but no buyers were found.

Only 194 of these wooden craft are now in operation. Seventy-three are tied up at various ports under managing caretakers and 139 are in storage yards. One hundred and seven of those in "storage" are finished hulls while 32 are converted barges.

Officials of the board say that when serviceability of wooden fleet has been demonstrated little difficulty will be experienced in turning it over to private ownership at about $90 a ton. These vessels were built in emergency, many of green timber, and some of them made poor showings a year and two years ago but now that they have "seasoned" officers of the board consider them practicable cargo carriers.

Because of the bad record of some of the vessels operators have condemned them all officials declare, whereas, the records of those now in operation show very creditable performances. One wooden ship out of six round trips across the Atlantic, at sea 500 days and in port an equal number, was laid up for repairs only 22 days.

To date 532 wooden and composite ships, aggregating 1,948,250 deadweight tons, consisting of 322 cargo ships, one tanker, 115 finished hulls, ten sailing craft, 56 hulls converted into barges and 20 standard barges, have been delivered to the board. A total of 114 of these vessels, aggregating 397,285 deadweight tons, has been sold and 12 totaling 44,546 tons have been lost at sea.

OHIOAN KILLS SELF

Portsmouth, August 3.—Despondent because of a cancer on his face which had been causing him intense pain, William F. Frey, a retired railroad watchman, fired a bullet into his brain at his home on a farm near here Monday and died almost instantly. His widow found his body with the revolver clutched in his hand.

CUT THIS OUT
Special Notice: Dr. Frederick Jacobson says that phosphates are just as essential to any woman who tires easily, is nervous or irritable, worn out or looks haggard and pale, to make a strong, robust, vigorous healthy body, as they are to make corn, wheat or any vegetable plant grow strong and healthy. The lack of phosphates is the cause of all endemic conditions and the administration of 5 grain Argo-Phosphates Tablets will increase the strength and endurance 500 per cent in a few weeks time in many instances. GUNBOATS HALT BRIGAND BANDS

Shanghai, (By Mail) — Brigands who have terrorized the upper reaches of the Yangtze river in recent months found a sudden check put upon their activities when American and British gunboats were dispatched into the upper river from Shanghai, according to reports that have filtered back to Shanghai.

The gun boats were sent up to Chinking after a bank of outlaws took possession of the Robert Dollar II of the Robert Dollar Company of Shanghai at Wanhien in Szechuen province, and were frightened away only by the timely appearance of the American gun boats Palos which came in response to distress signals.

The Robert Dollar II, on the maiden voyage of the new up-river service the Dollar company is establishing was fired upon from shore after the first encounter. Messages to Shanghai said the bandits vanished into the hills on the appearance of the gunboats.

August Is Here

As we turn from July into August there is abundant evidence, on every hand, other than the mere change in the leaf of the calendar, to remind us that another month has come and we are approaching nearer to the final harvest time of the year.

The showers are less frequent than during the sixty day period now behind us, the grass, the crops, in fact all sorts of vegetation, have stopped growing and most of them are showing old age tendency.

Almost "over night" the change has come. The vigor of nature, as exhibited in the growing processes, seems to have slowed up all at once and nature, with sun and atmosphere is preparing the crops for the hand of the reapers.

The offensive bug life is passing rapidly off the state and in its place have come the strident insects like the locust, and those myriads of others which all day long and far into the night rattle away in the grass and weeds by the roadside. The Katyids have not yet announced that frost will be with us in six weeks, but there is every indication that they too are massing their forces a little way off preparatory to moving in and taking possession.

The sky has taken on the hazy, dreamy look of fall and the sun shines down on growing crops and garden patch with a feeble yellow glow which seems to shrivel things up.

Don't Free Debs

The attempt to make of Eugene V. Debs a political prisoner is one of many patent insults to the intelligence of the American people offered by selfish and designing men operating in the political arena.

Debs was convicted after having been accorded a fair and impartial trial during which every constitutional guarantee was safeguarded. He was sentenced, after conviction on a charge of conspiring against the nation in time of war, to serve a term in the federal prison at Atlanta where he is now confined.

Not even the most vivid imagination can make a political prisoner of Debs. He is not different from any other criminal.

Senator Harding has refused the request of Debs' followers to interest himself in securing the release of the criminal presidential nominee. We all hope Governor Cox will be as prompt in denying a similar appeal made to him.

Debs is just where he should be—behind the bars. He is fortunate to be alive. In any other country but free, generous America, Debs would have received a volley from the guns of a firing squad as punishment for his crimes.

When notified of his nomination for president Debs asserted that he was more radical than ever. If that is true society demands he stay where he is and his friends should be, if they have his welfare at heart, interested in keeping him locked up for his own safety.

We Can't Always Tell

Most people thought, honestly, a year ago, that if the government would relinquish control of the railroads our many ills, attributable, directly or indirectly, to lack of proper transportation facilities—passenger and freight—and all wage discord between employees and managers, would vanish like mist before the morning sun.

Last March the railroads were turned back by the government to private control.

Only a year ago we were, most of us (and honestly too) insisting that if the government would allow the wheat market to take its own course, free from price fixing by government bureaus, we farmers would be selling our wheat for $3.00 or more per bushel instead of $2.70.

One month ago the government took the lid off the wheat market and stepped back in the shade to watch developments. Wheat is now selling at $2.00 per bushel. The price has been dropping rapidly with sickening thuds like ballast thrown overboard from a balloon sailing along at high altitudes.

All of which is proof that it is good policy to let well enough alone and not to cry for the impossible. It is foolish, always to fly to "ills we know not of."

We can't always tell.

WONDERLAND

What high adventure holds a deeper lure
Than coming to possess a garden, made
By hands long since beneath the greensward laid;
An old, wild garden, where quaint blooms endure,
And small, shy, sweet things, wistful
and demure,
Beneath the chatter of the border
hide;
And pool and tangled copse delight
divide
With hedgerows, holding privacy secure.

Eager and thrilled and reverent one bends
To watch some strange bud's slow
unfolding hue;
And each bright, sunshine furnished
petal lends
Beauty and charm and wonderment anew
To revelations which become a part
Of secret joys that nestle in one's heart.

MOTHERHOOD WOMAN'S RIGHT

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helps to Make Women Normal.

Washington, Ind.—"I was in such a condition that I never expected to have children and my aunt advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It improved my health and restored a normal condition of my system so that I now have a fine baby. Until she was about a year old I was very nervous, and all the time thinking something terrible was going to happen. If I heard anyone coming my heart would beat fast and I wanted to run. So I took the Vegetable Compound again and it helped me wonderfully. You may publish my letter as the medicine is surely great."—Mrs. I. V. BANTA, R. H. No. 4, Box 24, Washington, Ind.

Among the virtues of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is its ability to correct sterility in many cases. This fact is well established as evidenced by the above letter and hundreds of others we have published in these columns.

In many other homes, once childless, there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

TO GATHER RELICS ANCIENT WARSHIP IN SOUTH SEAS

(By Associated Press)

Papeete, Tahiti, (By Mail) — The ancient lore of Tahiti is to be resurrected and the ruins of the temples of the South Pacific Islanders, ordered destroyed a century ago by Christian missionaries, are to be uncovered by excavation. Efforts to gather the relics of a forgotten worship are being vigorously prosecuted here.

Interest centers upon the great central temple of Marae at Atehu, on Tahiti Island, where human sacrifices were offered to the bloodthirsty god of war, "Oro." So completely were the wishes of the missionaries carried out that nothing remains saves traces of the foundations of this extensive temple. Excavations are expected to bring to light some interesting objects, which, it is hoped will reveal the purposes and uses of this ancient structure.

Marae, while the chief temple of Tahiti, was not the oldest or the most important, in the islands. The temple at Opoa, traces of which still remain on the island of Raiatea, was the sacred center of religion in the eastern Pacific and not until a stone from this has been incorporated in the structure did the Marae temple on Tahiti consecrated.

It was at Marae that Captain Cook witnessed the ceremonies of human sacrifices chronicled in his "Voyages."

The natives while professing Christianity, and manifesting it by most active church attendance, have deep fear of these places. Under no circumstances will they approach these temples at night, nor venture near them by day without great trepidation, believing that should they in any way offend the sleeping gods, vengeance will come.

THIS IS THE SEASON FOR TYPHOID

Late summer and early fall are the months when typhoid is most prevalent. At this season of the year it is extremely wise for people to take extra precautions.

Make sure your Milk is not contaminated. Remember this: Typhoid germs come from without. The manner in which your Fresh Milk is handled may determine whether it has typhoid germs in it or not.

Be sure that the interval between its production and the time it is delivered to you is not too long; through too many hands; and that each operation is an extra precaution for your protection.

Also remember that pasteurization is the only recognized method of destroying germs that may be in or may get into the Milk. To be sure your Milk is safe you only have to demand pasteurized Milk.

MODERN MOTOR FARM MACHINERY EXHIBIT GIVEN

South Central Ohio Demonstration of Modern Methods in Farming Attracts Great Crowd of Farmers and Dealers.

Oats Field is Cleared and Recessed on Howat Farm To Show Up-to-date Methods.

Farmers and dealers from all over this section of the state attended a farm demonstration of modern motorized farm machinery at the Howat farm on the Greenfield pike southwest of this city Tuesday, that was under the personal supervision of the Ford Motor Company of Detroit, working in co-operation with The Ortman Motor Company of this city, the Ford and Fordson dealers in this community.

Operated by a fleet of Fordson tractors four carloads of specially designed farm implements, including a ditcher, road grader, silo filler, hay baler, feed mill, manure spreader, plow, disc, seeding machine, cultipacker and power mower, entered a field of oats of the Howat farm and performed all the operations required to clear it of the grain, throw it, carry it to the granary, plow the field, put it in shape for the next seeding and then proceeded to reseed it for next year.

Darting in and out like a swarm of wasps the little tractors, capable of making a speed of twenty miles per hour in a stubblefield, soon had the field cleared and ready for the next operations.

Not only was the field cleared and reseeded but the straw was baled and hauled away.

Experts were in charge of the exhibit and kept the action going all day. While there were several men from the Fordson factory present and many from the branch factories of the company local men also had a part in the demonstration and the tractor men of the local agency performed some of the work.

COCA COLA'S LOSS GAIN FOR LOCALS

It is now certain that the Coca Cola baseball club of Cincinnati will play the Washington Athletics at Sunnyside park Sunday afternoon. The local management was rather up a stump for a time because of the fact that the Coca Colas were making a great fight for the semi-pro baseball title of Greater Cincinnati and it was possible that they might not be able to come.

The Coca Colas were runners up until Sunday when they met the Richardson and were put out of the pennant hunt 4 to 2 mainly through the clever pitching of Dale Johnson who opposed Red Kelley, the Cola twirler.

While it was hard on "Pop" Simms, the Coca Cola manager, to lose Sunday's pastime, yet it was good news to the Athletic management for it meant another good game for local fans.

BLOOMINGBURG HAS TWO FIRES

Two fires occurred within an hour in Bloomingburg Monday.

Preparing breakfast about seven o'clock Mrs. C. E. Howsman had her right hand severely burned when a skillet on a gas range burst into flame. She attempted to carry it out of the house but the flames enveloped her hand and she was forced to drop it on the floor. The kitchen floor was soon blazing also but the fire was extinguished before extensive damage resulted.

Excitement following that fire had hardly died down before flames were seen coming from an abandoned dwelling house owned by Mrs. John Case, of this city, on part of the Persinger estate. It was totally destroyed within a few minutes.

The State Fire Marshal had ordered the house razed some time ago. It is believed that boys smoking started the fire.

LIGHTS BURN OUT PUZZLE EXPERTS

Expert electricians are still puzzled over the mysterious happenings of a few nights ago when a circuit of 14 street lights were burned out, and when replaced, burned out a second time with no apparent reason.

A careful investigation was made by the electricians, who followed each wire closely upon both occasions, but found no "short" that would cause the lamps to burn out.

After replacing the 14 lights the second time, no farther difficulty was experienced, and the men are still endeavoring to figure out the reason. The lamps were on Columbus avenue, East street and Broadway.

FARM MORTGAGE STOCK

A SAFE INVESTMENT WITH LARGE PROFITS ASSURED

Five substantial reasons why you should invest your savings or surplus in the stock of The Farm Mortgage Company of Cincinnati, an Ohio corporation, with an authorized capital of One Million Dollars, all Common Stock.

FIRST: SAFETY is the first requisite of every investment. All other considerations are of no value unless your principal is safe. The Farm Mortgage Company uses its capital for agricultural financing, secured by mortgages or bonds. One of the Safest Forms of Investment Known.

SECOND: The Company is a Cincinnati institution, actively engaged in business, and on a dividend-paying basis. It has been conservatively organized and is managed by a Board of Directors of leading and successful bankers and business men and experienced farm mortgage experts.

THIRD: The Farm Mortgage Company agrees to pay you interest at the rate of Eight Per Cent Per Annum, Payable Quarterly, computed from the date of all cash or installment payments on your stock subscription; such interest payments are made out of net earnings and are in addition to any dividends that may be declared on the stock.

FOURTH: Earnings for dividends and surplus are assured by the prevailing rate of interest paid by the borrower. In addition to this interest the company charges a fee for financing each transaction. The farm mortgages are then sold or collateral trust bonds will be issued on them. Rapid Turn Overs of Capital and a Multiplication of Interest Charges and Fees assure net earnings in excess of the eight per cent interest requirements.

FIFTH: FARM MORTGAGE STOCK is all COMMON STOCK and you thus share in all the net earnings and not only in a part as when you buy the usual Preferred Stocks or Bonds. The stock is NONTAXABLE IN OHIO; nonassessable and is free from the Normal Federal Income Taxes.

To increase your income and secure an interesting and thoroughly safe investment, investigate at once this attractive opportunity, especially if you wish to get in at the initial offering price of par $100 per share. Cash or installment payments accepted. You are invited to write, telephone or call at our office for our interesting Farm Mortgage circular.

COUNCIL AGAIN REFUSES RATE INCREASE ASKED FOR ELECTRICITY

City Solicitor Is Asked To Furnish Opinion As To City's Power To Force Service.

Lengthy Argument Accompanies Four to Three Vote Refusing Compromise Offer.

Test Suit Will Be Filed by Councilman Brownell To Have Meter Installed.

Council again Monday night refused to grant increased electric rates to The Washington Gas & Electric Company, and following the action, with Bloomer, Himmler, Reichert and Rowe voting against the proposed increase in electric rates and decrease of five cents in the gas rate, Solicitor Troy T. Junk was instructed to furnish council with a legal opinion as to whether the city, under existing conditions or contract could force The Washington Gas & Electric Company to furnish service. Member Brownell announcing that it was his belief that council's action left the city "skating on very thin ice" and liable to suffer as result of inadequate rates for electric service.

The rate question came up with presentation of a petition signed by a large number of business firms, manufacturers and leading citizens, asking that an increase be allowed.

Henry Brownell, as chairman of the committee appointed to confer with The Gas and Electric Co. with a view to reaching a compromise, presented his report, stating that The Washington Gas & Electric Company had agreed to reduce the gas rate from 60 to 55 cents net if the electric rate ordinance submitted some two years ago or more, was adopted by council and would take steps to have all litigation ended.

Mr. Brownell then moved that the city solicitor be instructed to proceed at once with preparation of the necessary ordinance for reducing the gas rates and increasing the electric rates as agreed upon. Attorney C. A. Reid, for the company, further explained the proposal and read the rates involved in the transaction, including supplemental rates for cooking and power, and which provide for a minimum meter charge of $1 per month.

Attorney Sanderson told council of the difficulty encountered in having The Washington Metal Products Company located in this city and how it was necessary to build the transmission line for the new firm because the Electric Company had announced present rates would not warrant the expenditure or taking on of new service. He spoke of obtaining the petition that had previously been presented, and the willingness shown by business heads who recognized the necessity for the increased rates for electricity in order that the power company could continue in operation.

The vote on the Brownell motion was then taken and stood four to three against the action toward accepting the compromise proposal.

Asks For Opinion

Member Brownell then said that the refusal of council to accept the proposal left the city on very thin ice, likelihood of inability to obtain service. He asked Solicitor Troy T. Junk if any contract existed between the city and the company whereby the company could be compelled to furnish light and power to the citizens.

Solicitor Junk replied that if service was continued by the company it must be at the old price.

Again Member Brownell repeated his question, and Solicitor Junk replied more specifically that technically, according to the supreme court, no contract existed.

Member Brownell then stated that he had asked Solicitor Junk ten days ago for an opinion on the question, and that it was evident that "there is a contract, or there is no contract, or the city solicitor does not know." He then asked if a citizen could compel the company to furnish service, and was informed that the individual citizen was the proper person to bring mandamus proceedings in an effort to compel service.

Opinion In Writing

After this declaration Member Brownell asked that the opinion of the solicitor be recorded in the minutes of council, whereupon Solicitor Junk, declaring that if Mr. Brownell desired to be technical, he also would be technical and would offer no opinion except one given in writing and after proper examination of the question. He declared Mr. Brownell had made the matter a personal affair, which was denied by Member Brownell, who said he and all council, as well as citizens in general, desired to know where they were "hitched."

Brownell then moved that the City Solicitor be required to file an opinion with council as soon as it could be prepared and after considerable argument council adopted the motion, Reichert and Rowe voting no.

Says Company Must Serve.

Attorney Logan discussed the question at some length. He declared that the company is under obligation to furnish service by right of franchise provisions; that a contract ordinance passed April 3, 1916 covered a period of ten years, and while it might not have been technically accepted by the company, the company had operated under it.

He offered his services gratis to anyone wishing to bring mandamus proceeding to force service, providing he did not win the case.

He cited decisions supporting his claim as to obligation of the electric company, and said that the attitude of the gas company had been one of great independence since the present owners took charge of it.

Brownell inquired of Attorney Logan if he would remove his own gas meter, at his home, and then compel the company to furnish service, as a test case. This was refused.

To Make Test Case

Then Mr. Brownell asked General Manager Gross, of The Washington Gas & Electric Company if his company would place a meter in the

WOMAN TALKS WITH HARDING
IN INTERVIEWMrs. Robert W. Spangler,
Now of Salt Lake "Covers"
Marion Assignment
For Home Paper.

Washington friends of Mrs. Robert W. Spangler, recently in from her Salt Lake City home for a visit, will enjoy the following excerpts from the clever pen of Mrs. Spangler as found in an account of her arrival here and visit at the Harding home published in "The Salt Lake Tribune."

When I left Chicago on July 9 to visit the "home folks" down in Ohio it was my intention to spend about a week quietly, resting in the shade of the old oak trees and talking over old times with relatives and friends. My schedule called for a trip to Marion on July 21, to be in time for the notification ceremonies, when Senator Harding learned beyond all peradventure of a doubt, that he is really and truly the Republican nominee for president of the United States.

I reached Washington Court House—this being the ancestral home of my husband's side—Saturday noon, with my knitting all ready to knit and my mind's eye fixed on the hammock, three trees to the north of the house, which I remembered was the coolest spot in the afternoon.

An energetic young niece met me at the depot, one hand grasping the wheel of her motor car and the other extending a telegram.

"Jump in and let's be moving," said she as she dutifully pecked a kiss on my cheek and started the motor. "Your telegram says to hurry, so let's hurry. Guess you're booked for short visit with us, and it's time for lunch."

As we headed for the residential district I read the telegram, which was from Salt Lake and said in substance "Hurry to Marion and get the story about the Hardings before the big jam arrives."

The hammock, the cool breezes rustling through the oak trees—or are they hickory—the tinkling of the ice in the lemonade pitcher, the sociable talks—all vanished as a mirage, and the knitting became knut. Duty called. Monday morning—early—was the time set for my departure. But before starting for Marion let us pause and give Washington Court House the once over, for it, too, has claims to fame in this Republican campaign.

Washington C. H. is the only town north of Mason and Dixon's line with a caudal appendage. Down in Virginia there is Fairfax C. H., Appomattox C. H. and a lot of C. H.'s, but this is the only one in the north. Out west a lot of the native sons do not know what the mysterious letters signify, so this explanation given for their enlightenment. It's the county seat!

Harry M. Daugherty, pre-convention manager of the Harding campaign, and Jess W. Smith, secretary of the same were also both born and raised in Washington C. H. Daugherty entered politics as he emerged from rompers. Smith fell out of high school into a department store and his name now appears in startling letters clear across the pages of the home papers so that all who run—may get the bargains.

The same ability that made him owner of the big store put him across as a successful secretary. For several months past he has divided his time between Washington C. H. and Washington, D. C. so he was always "at home" in either.

Two women readers Mrs. Spangler's interview with Mrs. Harding is especially interesting:

"When I arrived I was admitted by a colored man. The home is not pretentious; it is well furnished and comfortable. Mrs. Harding was alone and greeted me cordially. We sat down on a lounge and just visited. She is a very quick talker and impressed me as being a business like woman, a good manager and an inspiration and help to her husband. When she learned I was doing magazine and newspaper work she told me of her early struggles and how she had gone into the office and managed the paper when her husband was ill. When they were married he was just beginning his career as a country editor."

Twice I arose to go, but each time she held me back saying she could talk to me better than to some reporters, who asked her about her favorite authors and artists. She said she was a great reader, but is practically interested in all things that help to make life better. She said she believed the day of social aristocracy is gone, that all women wanted to be useful since the war had found plenty for them to do.

I asked her if she should become the first lady of the land would she go in more for social life. Her reply was that she enjoyed social life, but will always want to do something for humanity also and that none can afford to sit idly by when there is so much to do that the world needs real women as well as men. She expressed the hope that she would be a help to her husband in the serious problems that are confronting the nation. "My first thought will be of him for I have always said a man's success depends on his being well fed and well dressed—and even a president must be well fed. My father brought me up to be useful and practical and I can cook and darn, and know a well balanced meal."

SWEET CORN CROP IS IN FINE SHAPE

The sweet corn crop in Ohio is in fine shape and will be one of the largest in years, according to A. M. Wadsworth, director of inspection for the National Canner's association, who has just returned from a tour of the corn belt.

Farmers this year will get around $20 a tone for corn, compared with between $16 and 18 last year. The price of corn to the consumer will not be raised, according to Wadsworth, despite the great shortage of coal, the high price and scarcity of sugar and thware and the lack of sufficient farm labor.

This season's crop is expected to yield about 1,800,000 cases of 24 cans each to the canneries. Canners in Ohio may be hard hit, it is thought, by the recent ruling of the state utilities commission, acting on advice from the federal trades commission, that they cannot be placed on the priority list for coal shipments unless they have contracts with coal companies. The canneries had requested a place in the priority class because the canning season is now at its height and an insufficient supply of fuel may result in the wast of tons of vegetables.
